

Popular Garden Writer and Horticulturist to Speak in Tyler

Tyler, Texas — The Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service Horticulture Education Committee in Smith County will be hosting popular horticulturist, garden writer, and philosopher Felder Rushing Monday, September 13 from 2-4 PM at the Tyler Public Library (201 S. College Ave., Tyler, TX 75702). Felder will present “Maverick Gardeners-Keepers of the Flame.”

Felder Rushing is an eleventh-generation American gardener from Mississippi, a non-stuffy horticulturist, who travels the world looking for simple garden approaches, which he promotes in his newspaper columns, books, magazine articles, and NPR radio program. The author of over twenty books and international founder of the “Slow Gardening” movement, he was named by Southern Living as one of “25 people most likely to change the South.”

Felder will have his latest book available, Maverick Gardeners: Dr. Dirt and Other Determined Independent Gardeners.

The cost of the lecture is $20 payable at the door by cash or check. Proceeds from the program go to support the Earth-Kind® educational efforts of the Smith County Horticulture Education Committee. For more information about the lecture, call the Smith County AgriLife Extension office at 903-590-2980 or visit <https://smith.agrilife.org/>. Let us you if you are coming with the following link:

<https://www.signupgenius.com/go/904054da5ae2aaaf94-welcome>

Please be prepared to follow the latest city, county, and state Covid guidelines.